The ABCs of CABs

As these 16 wines from eight regions deftly illustrate, despite delicious nuances imparted by different terroirs, Cabernet Sauvignon is ageable, bold and consistent no matter where it's grown. No wonder it's the world's most popular red wine.

.....
Treasured as the foremost grape in the celebrated blends of Bordeaux's iconic Left Bank, Cabernet Sauvignon has an affinity for a variety of soils and climates, which has allowed this famous grape to flourish in many of the world's leading regions. Our collection highlights eight countries where Cabernet thrives, showcasing the breadth of styles in which it's made and illustrating how, no matter where it's grown or what it's blended with, the noble character of the "King of Grapes" consistently shines through.

CORE VALUES

At its core, the global success of this natural crossing of Cabernet Franc and Sauvignon Blanc is due to its ... core. The grape is small, with thick skin, a large seed and a relatively low quantity of pulp. The ratio of juice to skin and pulp means that during fermentation, exceptionally high levels of colour, flavour and tannin are extracted. This assures that the grape's distinct cassis and blackcurrant notes emerge regardless of where it's grown, what it's blended with or what an individual winemaker's style may be. The intensity of Cabernet's tannins gives it a great affinity for oak which, along with imparting notes of clove and vanilla, softens the tannins and makes the wines more approachable. The robust structure of Cabernet allows these wines to age, and many of the finest can cellar for decades.

BORDEAUX

CABERNET IN

The Atlantic Ocean's influence over Bordeaux's climate creates conditions that encourage the development of wines defined more by refinement than power. Vintage variation is addressed through blending, and though wines can include Cabernet Franc and sometimes Malbec, Petit Verdot and Carmenère, Bordeaux's most famous combination is Cabernet Sauvignon with Merlot. Bordeaux has four main soil types: gravel, sand, iron-rich clay, and limestone. Each of these imparts specific attributes to the grapes grown in them, and though Cabernet can thrive in all of them, it has a particular affinity for gravel soils. Margaux is situated on Bordeaux's Left Bank, where the soils are predominantly gravel. Margaux wines are complex, with fresh acidity, blackcurrant fruit, and celebrated depth and character. These are wines capable of ageing for 30 years or more.

Old vines and an old church in Margaux.

SÉGLA 2014

Second wine of Château Rauzan-Ségla, AC Margaux, Bordeaux, France

Very fresh and bright with strawberry, mineral and flower aromas that follow through to a medium body, fine and polished tannins and a fresh and clean finish. Harmonious. Beautiful second wine. Hard not to drink now. [A wine that will continue to evolve for a decade or more from vintage.] Score: 92 (jamesuckling.com, Feb. 13, 2017)

HERITAGE DE BELLIARD 2016

AC Margaux, Bordeaux, France

A softly powerful nose, full of brooding red cherry, damson and plum flavours with touches of vanilla wood spice and roasted coffee beans. On the palate the texture is smooth with a rich and ripe core, generous but soft tannins, and long finish. This is approachable now but also has great ageing potential. 63% Cabernet Sauvignon, 31% Merlot and 6% Cabernet Franc and Petit Verdot complete the blend. Grapes are hand-harvested from clay-gravel soils without the use of pesticides and vinified with a long fermentation of around six weeks in stainless steel, aged 18 months in French barrels, 30% new. Drinking window: 2020-2035. Score: 93 (Georgina Hindle, decanter.com, July 31, 2020)

CABERNET IN CALIFORNIA

As in Bordeaux, California Cabernet is often paired with Merlot, but its ability to complement other grapes sees it used in blends alongside the likes of Zinfandel, Syrah, Petite Sirah, Grenache, Sangiovese, Malbec and many, many more. Consistent sunny and warm conditions also permit the creation of single-varietal Cabernets. California has a wide range of terroirs (Sonoma alone contains more soil types than all of France), but generally speaking, Cabernets from warmer sites are ripe and powerful, while those from cooler areas are aromatic and elegant. Californian Cabernets are always impressively structured, with ripe black fruit and, especially in Napa, a pure, unmistakable cassis tone.

KENDALL-JACKSON VINTNER'S
RESERVE CABERNET SAUVIGNON 2018
Sonoma County, California

This represents solid value for the solid quality – an expressive wine in dark rich cherry, cinnamon and vanilla notes and one that is sticky in tannin and shows plenty of structure. Blended with small amounts of Cab Franc, Malbec, Merlot and Petit Verdot, it remains light on the palate in integrated oak. Editors' Choice. [Will drink through 2026.] Score: 90 (Virginie Boone, Wine Enthusiast, July 1, 2021)

CABERNET IN ONTARIO

Early-morning vineyards at Henry of Pelham.

When you think of Ontario, you may think of aromatic white wines, elegant Pinot Noirs and zesty sparkling wines, but this cool-climate region has plenty of the gravelly soil Cabernet favours. Generous sunshine and the cooling influence of Lake Ontario permit Cabernet Sauvignon to ripen successfully in select pockets of Niagara's wine country. Niagara Cabernets are typically medium-bodied, though fuller-bodied expressions are not uncommon. Both styles share a lithe, fresh character and offer dark fruit, savoury herbs, earth and spice notes. They're prime examples of how successful Cabernet Sauvignon can be in cooler climates.

AUSTRALIA

.....

Cabernet has enjoyed great success in Australia, where it produces wines that are notably dark with prominent ripe black fruit and firm tannins. As with other regions, Cabernet is often paired with Merlot, but Down Under's most famous Cabernet blending partner is Shiraz. Australian Cabernet Sauvignon covers the style gamut from the famous lifted eucalyptus notes of Coonawarra's rich, intense, structured examples to the elegance of those from Margaret River. In the Barossa, Cabernet Sauvignon produces rich, lush wines and fares best in cooler sites that allow it to balance the ripe fruit with fresh acidity.

CHÂTEAU TANUNDA GRAND BAROSSA

CHILE

.....

Chile offers some of the greatest value for Cabernet anywhere in the world. In general, Chilean Cabernet Sauvignons are richer than those from Bordeaux but less overtly powerful than Californian examples and have a supple mouthfeel, generous dark fruit, savoury herbs and spice notes. Chile's unique transverse valleys bookend warm central areas between the cooling influence of the Pacific to the west and the cooler temperatures found at altitude in the Andes to the East. This allows wine-makers great latitude; they can combine fruit from these areas or use grapes sourced entirely from one zone to create nuanced, distinct expressions.

FOOD FOR THOUGHT

Cabernet Sauvignon's tannic nature and boldly expressed fruit tones mean it can overpower lighter dishes, so it's best to serve it with fattier, richer meals. It's a classic option for grilled meats and hard cheeses such as aged Gouda or aged cheddar, and vegetarians and vegans can pair it with dishes like mushroom risotto or grilled portobello mushroom steaks.

ARGENTINA

CABERNET IN

Machine harvesting in Mendoza.

Altitude is the driving force behind wine styles in Argentina, where vines are planted at elevations of up to 1,700 metres. Poor soils force vines to work hard to survive, while cool temperatures and intense sunlight provide a long, predictable ripening period, fashioning Mendoza's powerful, robust take on Cabernet. Along with well-defined tannins, fresh acidity provides a distinct lifted character that balances the brawny energy that might otherwise make these wines overwhelming. As with other major regions, Cabernet plays a significant role in blends and is often paired with its Bordelais cousin (and Argentina's signature red grape), Malbec.

CATENA CABERNET SAUVIGNON
Mendoza, Argentina

Nicolás Catena utilizes fruit from four different vineyards at altitudes ranging from 945 to 1,524 metres to create this medium-bodied but concentrated wine. It shows lifted floral notes, fresh rye bread, black plum fruit and sensual tannins. Enjoy it with grilled pepper steak.

ITALY

CABERNET IN

The village of Barbarano
Vicentino, Veneto.

Cabernet Sauvignon was introduced to Italy in the 1820s and was first planted in Piedmont. It's now an important grape in several regions, most significantly Tuscany, where its capability as a blending partner helped usher in the age of the Supertuscans in the 1970s. In the Veneto region, Cabernet Sauvignon can often be found alongside Amarone's Corvina, Molinara and Rondinella grapes. Italian Cabernet Sauvignon can be quite dynamic, with fresh, lifted acidity, profoundly expressed red and black fruit, and undertones of spice and herbs.

SANTA MARGHERITA
CABERNET SAUVIGNON 2019
IGT Veneto, Italy

This Cabernet from Veneto is sourced from deep clay soils with a high fossil content and offers insight into the breadth of styles in which Cabernet is produced. It displays the balance, firm tannins, dark fruit and cassis that define Cabernet the world over but is lither and more approachable than many examples from Napa or even Bordeaux. Pair with braised meat or mushroom burgers.

SOUTH AFRICA

CABERNET IN

Happiness is healthy grapes.

Cabernet Sauvignon in South Africa dates to the 1600s. Today, it's the most widely planted grape in the country and is important as a blending component and a varietal wine. Cabernets from warmer sites express a robust, almost Australian character, with notable ripe cassis, plum and mulberry notes. In cooler areas, where the influence of the cold Antarctic Benguela Current and the famous Cape Doctor winds are felt most intensely, the wines possess a characterful freshness. South African Cabernet Sauvignon offers a bridge between New World fruit and Old World elegance and structure.

CATHEDRAL CELLAR
CABERNET SAUVIGNON

A tasty tongue twister

Say it with me: "Gah-VURTZ-tra-mee-ner." Hard to spell but easy to love, this darling of Germany and Alsace is one of the most distinctive white wines on the planet. Its opulent, weighty texture and heady aromas of lychee and roses are unmistakable. FORTIFIED WINE

FONSECA LATE BOTTLED VINTAGE PORT 2015

Unfiltered, DOP, Portugal
Not having been filtered assists in the Late Bottle Vintage Port's ability to age and thus as a 2015 this is really just a baby. Fruity beyond belief in fact. Fresh as the day it went to bottle and not nearly in the realm of advancing anytime soon. Clearly a banner vintage for fruit with dark berries, currants, fresh figs and plum well ahead of the nuts, kernel and spice. Terrific barrel management and master blending makes this open, upright and so bloody expressive. Sweetness merges well with the rest of the constituent parts. Drink 2021-2030. ZUCCARDI Q MALBEC 2019*

Valle de Uco, Mendoza

A blend of vineyards from Altamira (70%) and Los Chacayes (30%), this is a pure fruit juice, clear in its expression of variety, and in the notes of flowers and herbs. The palate is tense with lots of texture and fine, sharp tannins. 30% of the wine was aged in barrels, and the rest in concrete, which seems to back the fruit, the exuberance of the flavors, the intensity, and the acidity. A malbec that is like a photograph of the variety in modern times, now far from being over-ripe and excessively oaky. Score: 94 (Patricio Tapia, guiadescorchados.cl, 2021)

Excellent value for money in this wine, a coastal chardonnay from the vineyard in El Rosario, in the northern part of the San Antonio Valley. It's focused on fruity flavors, on ripe fruits, and is enveloping in its tropical flavors. There are certain touches of spice here from aging in barrels (70% of the wine spent a year in used barrels) but most of all, it has exuberant fruit in a white that would go perfectly with grilled salmon. Some of Chile's finest carmenères come from the Peumo zone in the Cachapoal Valley. The clay soils and the breezes that blow over the river are important factors for making the variety shine. RUFFINO RISERVA DUCALE ORO GRAN SELEZIONE CHIANTI CLASSICO 2017
DOCG

The 2017 vintage in Chianti was hot, with drought conditions that gave rise to ripe, robust wines. The higher elevations of the Chianti Classico area are responsible for the characteristic freshness of its wines, allowing the 2017s to possess the intensity of the vintage while retaining their distinctive balance. This one shows lifted violets, dark fruit, clove and spice. Pair with grilled lamb.

MASI RISERVA COSTASERA AMARONE DELLA VALPOLICELLA CLASSICO 2015
DOCG

This is a stellar amarone from a fine year ... 70% corvina, 5% molinara, 15% rondinella and 10% oseleta (a local variety Masi has regenerated) ... red plum/black cherry, lifted florals, nougat, forest and mushroom, vanilla and fine spice ... Flavours seep through every pore ... Great structure and poise for such a big wine. The length is excellent to out-standing. Will age decades in my estimation, but balanced enough to enjoy now. MASSIMAGO VALPOLICELLA 2018
DOC

This winery has been in the Cracco family (winemaker Camilla Rossi Chauvenet's maternal side) since 1883. The blend for this Valpolicella is 60% Corvina, 30% Corvinone and splashes of other varieties. It was forged in stainless steel and offers bright cherry fruit and evergreen, with a mineral undertone. Pair with stuffed mushrooms and sautéed radicchio.

SANTA MARGHERITA CABERNET SAUVIGNON 2019
IGT Veneto

This Cabernet from Veneto is sourced from deep clay soils with a high fossil content and offers insight into the breadth of styles in which Cabernet is produced. It displays the balance, firm tannins, dark fruit and cassis that define Cabernet the world over but is lither and more approachable than many examples from Napa or even Bordeaux. Pair with braised meat or mushroom burgers.

CRASTO 2019

DOC Douro

The 2019 Tinto is a roughly equal blend of Touriga Nacional, Tinta Roriz and Touriga Franca, with 10% Tinta Barroca, unoaked (but for about 15% aged in used French oak for six months). It comes in at 14.1% alcohol. Simply gorgeous and another fine value this year, this expresses its fruit beautifully, seeming surprisingly concentrated, while maintaining its elegance. It is tightly wound and precise. The finish is mouthwatering and filled with flavor. Yet, the elegance and freshness here always support the fruit... This understated and impeccably balanced Tinto is irresistible. What will 2027 bring? Que será, será. Drink date: 2021-2030. Score: 90 (Mark Squires, robertparker.com, June 30, 2021)

Supérieur blend

CHÂTEAU PEY LA TOUR RÉSERVE DU CHÂTEAU 2017

AC Bordeaux Supérieur, Bordeaux, France
(Vignobles Dourthe)

Merlot and Cabernet Sauvignon are the foundation for many of the finest blends in the world and the backbone of Bordeaux's superstar status. Merlot leads here, bringing plummy dark fruit and a silky plushness, while the Cabernet adds cassis and a tight, refined structure. A superlative synthesis of styles.
