Invite the world to

A long-weekend dinner

Hosting family or friends on spring's first long weekend? Here's a host of classic dishes with perfect wine pairings from the Old and New Worlds.

Getting out to dine across the world at large may not always be possible, but you can easily bring the world home to eat with you. In broad strokes, Old World wines are lighter-bodied, leaner, less overtly fruity and more precisely structured than their New World counterparts. These differences come into play at mealtime because food matching is a balance of the weight, flavour intensity, and texture of both the food and the wine. The key question is to what degree does a wine's character complement, enhance or contrast the flavours of the meal. We've highlighted some classic and signature styles from top regions that will each help elevate family feasts in their own distinct way.

Traditional Turkey Dinner

Turkey with all the fixings is the classic centrepiece for family dining.

DOPFF AU MOULIN CUVÉE EUROPE RIESLING 2019

Vegan, AC Alsace, France

This wine was served at the European Union's first meeting, in 1959 in Strasbourg. The 2019 is a deft, finessed Riesling, with juicy lemon and peach fruit, racy acidity and a snappy minerality. Pair with vegetable curries.

LOUIS LATOUR LES PIERRES DORÉES PINOT NOIR 2018

AC Coteaux Bourguignons, Burgundy, France

A delicious, fruity red with strawberry and plum character. Medium body, round tannins and a fruity finish. Not the most complex wine, but satisfying. Drink now [to 2025]. Score: 90 (jamesuckling.com, Nov. 5, 2020)

Medium-bodied & Fruity

11898 (XD) 750 mL $29.95 ✓

OLD WORLD PAIRINGS

Riesling from Alsace is typically dry and relatively robust and full. The wines are rarely oaked and have a distinct mineral character. Their high acidity makes them versatile dinner wines and allows them to pair with a range of foods, such as smoked salmon, sausages and turkey. Medium-bodied reds such as Pinot Noir from Burgundy are well suited for turkey dinners, as their delicate fruity character and bright acidity can handle the variety of flavours without overpowering the meal.

NEW WORLD PAIRINGS

Niagara Rieslings tend to be crafted with more residual sugar. This doesn't mean they all taste off-dry or sugary, but many have an uplifting sweetness that brings additional zest to the meal and is ideal for smoked turkey. The fine acidity, cranberry-tinged fruit and earthy character of Niagara Pinot give it great breadth, allowing it to pair with a range of sides and stand up to the richness of the turkey itself.

WESTCOTT ESTATE PINOT NOIR 2017 🍁

VQA Vinemount Ridge, Niagara Peninsula, Ontario

This Pinot Noir makes your mouth water with the first whiff. Smoked meat and damsons on the nose lead to a refreshing entry that's bright and red-fruited. Then the red fruit centre swings toward blueberries before a touch of black earth emerges. Then those smoky-salty-meaty notes found on the nose return on the finish. Such an intriguing and harmonious Pinot Noir from our own backyard. Score: 93 (Carolyn Evans Hammond, Toronto Star, May 27, 2021)

Medium-bodied & Fruity

427500 (XD) 750 mL $29.95 ✂

Sweet and Savoury Baked Ham

This flavourful offering can be made with a wide range of glazes.

OLD WORLD PAIRINGS

Pinot Noir is a natural pairing for ham, as the wine's typically delicate, lithe character prevents it from overwhelming the meat, while the fruit can offset ham's salty nature. Pinot's complex savoury, earthy tones allow it to pair with a range of glazes. Our example was sourced from Touraine, in the Loire, and is perfect for ham with a cherry glaze. If you're serving smoked or baked ham, a classic blend of Syrah and Grenache is the way to go. The earth and pepper spice notes of the Syrah will heighten the smoky notes in the ham, while the freshness and bright fruit of the Grenache will enhance the subtler tones in the meat.

F DE FOURNIER PINOT NOIR 2019

France
(Domaine Fournier Père et Fils)

This pinot grows in clay soils in Touraine, where it produced a rather austere, pretty 2019. The fruit – crunchy cherry and cherry pit – frames savory flavors of black tea leaves and earthy morels. Light enough on its own, it would be comfortable next to mild cured meats. Score: 91 (David Milligan, wineandspiritsmagazine.com, June 2021)

BASTIDE MIRAFLORS SYRAH/VEILLES VIGNES GRENACHE 2019

AP Côtes du Roussillon, France

The 2019 Côtes du Roussillon Bastide Miraflors is a blend of 70% Syrah (vinified as whole bunches and aged in 20% new demi-muids) and 30% Grenache (destemmed and aged in concrete). Hints of peppery spice, vanilla and woodsmoke accent the blueberry-scented nose, while the full-bodied palate is ripe, supple and concentrated, adding hints of black cherries, chocolate and licorice on the long finish. It's hard to top this sort of quality at the suggested retail of $19 [USD]. Drink date: 2021-2025. Score: 91 (Joe Czerwinski, robertparker.com, Sept. 23, 2021)

Hearty Roast Lamb

For centuries, lamb has been a traditional part of holiday feasts. Tender and juicy, it has a rich, distinct flavour that can overwhelm some wines.

OLD WORLD PAIRINGS

Lamb is a dish that calls for powerfully built wines that themselves aren't shy on flavour, such as Amarone. Produced from grapes that are picked late and then left to dry before fermentation to further concentrate the flavours, this iconic style's notable dried dark fruit, chocolate, spice and leather notes stand up to lamb's strong personality. If you're making roast lamb, you're likely seasoning it with herbs such as rosemary. To accentuate this, you want a big-flavoured wine that brings some savoury herbal tones of its own to the table. With its lively acidity, bright fruit flavours and herbs, Spanish Tempranillo hits all the tasty requirements.

HACIENDA SOLANO SELECCIÓN 2019

Sustainable, DO Ribera del Duero, Spain

The 2019 Selección is mostly Tempranillo with 2% white Albillo from small plots in the village of La Aguilera that fermented in concrete and stainless steel with indigenous yeasts and matured in used 225-liter oak barrel (one-third of the volume) and concrete. 2019 is a riper year than 2018; they picked early to avoid excess ripeness, and in fact, they finished when some people hadn't yet started! The wine is juicy and round, with very integrated oak and a soft mouthfeel. This is very tasty with ripe flavors and a long aftertaste. Drink date: 2021-2025. Argentine Malbec, grown at altitude in the foothills of the Andes, is unquestionably big and bold, but it retains a bright core of zesty acidity that, along with the concentrated dark fruit, chocolate and oak spice, makes it a top-flight, versatile food wine. Serve roasted mushrooms alongside slow-cooked lamb and bring out the best in your Malbec. Fragrant, powerful and structured Shiraz from Australia's Clare Valley has a richness and depth that partners well with lamb.

FABRE MONTMAYOU RESERVA MALBEC 2020

Mendoza, Argentina

An excellent representation of the region's boldly flavoured reds, this Malbec is floral and juicy, with tangy red cherry fruit, spice, oak-infused vanilla, and chocolate tones. It will continue to evolve for another 2-3 years and will be the perfect match for grilled food or hearty stews.

Classic Roast Beef

The foundation of many a Sunday dinner, roast beef is a family favourite that never fails to make an impression.

OLD WORLD PAIRINGS

Bordeaux reds comprise some combination of Cabernet Sauvignon and Merlot along with Cabernet Franc and occasionally Petit Verdot, Malbec and even Carmenère. The structure and depth of Cabernet-and-Merlot blends allow them to stand up to the heft of the beef, while their smoky, herbal undertones accentuate the broader flavours of the meat. Younger Bordeaux reds have more tannins and fuller flavours and are better suited to heavier cuts of beef. Chianti Classico has noticeable tannins, making it a great choice for tenderloin.

CHÂTEAU LA CROIX DE QUEYNAC 2019
AC Bordeaux Supérieur, Bordeaux, France

NEW WORLD PAIRINGS

Along with its powerful tannic structure, Napa Cabernet has ample richness, intensity, texture and depth of ripe fruit flavour to stand head-to-head with beef. Coonawarra Cabernet Sauvignon is intense and structured, and the dark fruit tones are often accented by a lifted mint or eucalyptus character that acts in concert with the fresh herbs used to garnish your roast beef, bringing another dimension to the meal.

WYNNS COONAWARRA ESTATE THE

I'm seldom impressed by redesigns of labels that have history on their side. This is an exception, and it also hits home runs in the mouth notwithstanding a challenging vintage. Rich Baked or Grilled Salmon

Salmon's rich, complex flavours and its ability to be made in a number of styles make it a popular choice for special occasions.

OLD WORLD PAIRINGS

Salmon's versatility means that a wide range of wines will complement it, but whether the dish is baked, grilled, poached or smoked, a traditionally crafted Rosé Crémant de Bourgogne is perfect. The lively acidity cuts through the salmon's oily richness, the red fruit and autolytic notes complement the fish's flavour, and the slightly sweet edge to the red fruit makes a nice foil to the fish's salty tones.

NEW WORLD PAIRINGS

A rich, buttery California Chardonnay is a classic pairing, and the oak notes in the wine work well with the smoky notes of a cedar-planked salmon.

OLD WORLD PAIRINGS

Sauvignon Blanc from Sancerre is famously zesty, with lime, gooseberry, green apple and pear flavours alongside the grape's noted suggestions of grass and gunflint minerality. The herbaceous qualities of Sancerre make it an easy companion for vegetarian fare, particularly such dishes as stuffed peppers, or grilled zucchini with tomatoes and mint.

NEW WORLD PAIRINGS

Marlborough Sauvignon Blanc shares the drive and verve found in Sancerre, but a key difference between the two styles is the intensity with which Marlborough expresses Sauvignon Blanc's characteristic herbal tones. This more robust nature allows Kiwi Sauvignon Blancs to match with more aggressively flavoured foods such as asparagus; a notoriously challenging food to match. Try an NZ Savvy with asparagus casserole or vegetarian lasagna.

You joined Malivoire early on. What was the vision back then?

I've been with Malivoire since the 2000 vintage, which was only the third vintage at the estate. My first year was as a cellar hand. Back then, our focus was on estate-grown Chardonnay, Pinot Noir, rosé and aromatic whites. We were really exploring the potential of our Bench vineyards with novel cultural approaches such as extensive hand work to maximize grape quality.

Has that vision changed?

Some things have changed quite a bit since the early days, but our vision has remained the same. We still focus on attention to detail in the vineyard; however, what we do with certain varieties has been flipped around. For example, the Gamay, originally planted to be the base of our rosé, has since become our signature red wine. Meanwhile, most of the Pinot Noir is now used for our Vivant Rosé.

How has the Ontario wine scene transformed in that time?

Wow, so much is different. For starters, Icewine doesn't dominate the landscape as it did 20 years ago. We're now known more for our great table wines. Ontario has really laid claim to making great Chardonnays, Rieslings, Gamays, Cabernet Francs and Pinot Noirs, just to name a few. And in so many styles, from rich and complex to fresh and agile to quirky and sublime, the bar on these wines is always being raised as Ontario winemakers explore new approaches. When I started here, few if any were making the interesting blends, diverse range of rosés, or dynamic sparkling wines we see today. And we still do great dessert wines!

What's your proudest accomplishment with Malivoire?

Recognition, both locally and internationally, of our Gamays. Every wine critic or reviewer who has tasted our Gamay portfolio has been very impressed at what we can do. That has been a point of pride, especially as I feel we aren't trying to measure up to a European benchmark; we're just doing what feels right to us. Being rewarded with three platinum medals at the most recent National Wine Awards, which included a Gamay and a Gamay blend, certainly drives that point home. And equally special to me is to see this success with Gamay unfold across the province, with more and more winemakers focusing on it. I'm proud to think we had something to do with that.

FORTIFIED WINE

POÇAS JR. LBV PORT 2015

Vegan, DOP, Portugal

... unfiltered field blend aged for four years in cask. It was the final blend and out of cask, but about a month from bottling when seen. It will be bottled with a long cork and 116 grams of residual sugar. Elegant in the mid-palate, this has a touch of sugar on the edge, but there's ripe fruit and a long, delectable finish. The power is even more impressive, as this is one of those traditional LBVs with some pop and structure. With this type of wine, the line between LBV and Vintage Port can blur a bit. This is nicely done, and it can improve with age. It wouldn't hurt, in fact, if you did age ... Drink date: 2020-2035. Score: 89-91 (Mark Squires, robertparker.com, July 11, 2019)

ANGELS GATE ARCHANGEL BRUT SPARKLING CHARDONNAY 2014 🇨🇦

Niagara's climate produces grapes with high acidity, freshness and vibrancy, making it an ideal region for sparkling-wine production. Though just a kid and a chardonnay with mild, subtle and demure aromatics, there is something lurking, an emotive credibility that tells a story of vintage, winemaking and change. CABERNET SAUVIGNON 2020

DO Valle del Maipo
This cabernet comes from vineyards planted in 2013 on the alluvial soils of the Maipo Valley, at the foot of the Andes. It was aged for 12 months in oak, 20% new. Despite being a warm year throughout Chile's Central Valley (throughout the entire country, in fact), this wine shows a certain freshness and fluidity. The burning sensation of the alcohol is just a murmur amid the fruity, menthol, and herbal flavors, and the acidity that fulfills its role of refreshing here very well. GRANCASALE VERDICCHIO DEI
CASTELLI DI JESI CLASSICO
SUPERIORE 2018

DOC

(CasalFarneto)

Dusty florals, gingery spice, baked apples and pears form a refined yet delicate bouquet as the [wine] slowly blossoms in the glass. This is more savory than sweet, with pronounced minerality and silky textures that wash a pure display of white orchard fruits across the palate. It tapers off structured yet a bit shorter than anticipated, leaving nuances of honeydew melon. I typically expect a bigger and riper style from the Grancasale, which has left me very intrigued to see how the 2018 will mature over time. Drinking window: 2023-2028. This wine rocks

CLAYMORE DARK SIDE OF THE MOON SHIRAZ 2019

Clare Valley, South Australia

Claymore Wines takes inspiration from timeless songs, albums and artists when naming their wines. Like the 1973 Pink Floyd masterwork, this Shiraz is a crowd-pleasing perennial favourite. It serves up intense dark and purple fruit with grace notes of toasted spice, violet, cocoa and cedar. It'll be a hit gift.
