A gateway to beauty in Tuscany.

Magnifico!

With thousands of years of winemaking history and a diverse landscape particularly conducive to now-famous native grapes, ITALY is a dream destination for lovers of fine wine.

There are precious few places with reputations for wines of such quality, character and sophistication that virtually no questions need be asked. Italy holds such a distinction. So famous are many of these wines that the name of the grape and where they're made have become one. If you're looking for wines to grace your cellar, anchor an important dinner, or be that extra-special gift (it's never too early for holiday shopping where fine wines are concerned), Italy will satisfy all your needs and then some.

Piedmont

A lovely morning
in Langhe.

Barolo

Built to Last

Barolo is a famously ageable wine. Curiously, the Nebbiolo grape from which it's made develops the brick-orange colouration that typically indicates maturity for red wines while the wines are still young.

The charming village of Barolo.

A Closer Look

Piedmont's lofty reputation as one of the world's most prized wine regions is founded on Nebbiolo, arguably Italy's most esteemed grape. The Barolo growing area has two distinct soil types that produce two different styles of wine. The Western Central Valley, where the communes of La Morra and Barolo are found, has fertile, blue-tinted Tortonian soils and produces earlier-maturing wines that are fruitier and relatively less tannic in makeup than those from eastern Serralunga Valley. Serralunga Valley includes Monforte and Serralunga and has less fertile, poorer Helvetian soils that encourage longer-lived, more structured wines. Both areas produce wines with firm tannins, very high acidity, and Barolo's characteristic rose, strawberry, spice and tar notes.

CASCINA CHICCO ROCCHE DI
CASTELLETTO BAROLO 2015
DOCG

Lots of dried fruit on this one, as well as menthol, peppermint tea and roasted chestnuts. Full-bodied and stocky on the palate with medium-chewy tannins and a sturdy, powerful finish. Drink from 2023 [through 2035+]. Score: 93 (jamesuckling.com, Nov. 7, 2019)

Barbaresco

A Place Like No Other

Piedmont is home to virtually all of the plantings of Nebbiolo in the world. Despite the earnest efforts of skilled, determined winemakers across Italy and the globe, the balanced power and elegance that define the grape have been impossible to replicate outside of these tiny enclaves in Piedmont.

Langhe's rolling hills.

A Closer Look

It's thought that the Nebbiolo grape took its name from the Latin word "nebula," which means fog. A likely association, as the best vineyard sites are located above the point where the morning fog settles. The Barbaresco area of Piedmont is drier and warmer than Barolo and is also a much smaller growing area. The vines are located at lower elevations than those that produce Barolo and are planted in soils similar to those in the La Morra and Barolo communes. As with Barolo, Barbaresco is crafted from 100% Nebbiolo, though the wines are more approachable young than Barolo and have less tannin (a relative consideration, as Barbaresco has plenty of tannin). They are floral, rich, elegant wines, with spice-accented fruit and mouth-watering freshness. Similar to Barolo, these wines can age upwards of 20 years.

NADA GIUSEPPE CASOT
BARBARESCO 2019
DOCG

The Nada family have been making wines in Piedmont since the 1960s, and Casot is one of their two cru sites. The soils are blue-and-gray tufo mixed with loose sand. According to wine critic Antonio Galloni, "The 2019s are deep, layered Barbarescos that show the heights of what is possible here" (Feb. 15, 2022). This floral wine has ripe fruit, spice and superb character. Drink into the late 2030s.

Veneto

Grapes for Amarone
dry on straw mats.

Amarone della Valpolicella Classico

Old Soul

This legendary red wine was discovered accidentally when grapes destined to produce Veneto's iconic sweet red wine Recioto were inadvertently fermented to full dryness. Intentional Amarone production began in earnest in the 1950s, and only since the 1990s has the style become one of Italy's most recognized and beloved.

MASI CAMPOLONGO DI TORBE AMARONE DELLA VALPOLICELLA CLASSICO 2013 DOCG

This year the Amarone Classico Campolongo di Torbe '13 gave us the most thrills with its vibrant aromas of plum and cherry jam, then a minty hint that turns to deeper notes of chocolate and spices. The palate is dense, taut, rich, with velvety tannins, topped off by a gratifying finish. Score: 🍷🍷🍷 (Gambero Rosso Italian Wines, 2022)

Full-bodied & Smooth

548677 (D) 750 mL $135.95 ✂

A Closer Look

One of the oldest winemaking regions in the world, Veneto has been home to viticulture for more than 3,000 years and the region has been associated with quality wines since the second century BCE. The practice of drying harvested grapes prior to pressing and fermentation dates back thousands of years. In antiquity, wines made in this way were highly desired for their quality. Not only did they possess greater intensity of colour, flavour and tannins than their peers, they were more robust, stable, ageable, and better able to endure the rigours of travel, allowing for a greater flexibility and range of trade. Masi is one producer who has been instrumental in championing single-vineyard Amarone, creating fascinating terroir-specific expressions. The wines are complex and rich, with leather, spice, baked cherries and smoke. Amarone from the Classico zone is notably more elegant than those from other areas, with a refined, lifted aromatic character.

Chianti Classico

Time and Place

The first official reference to Chianti as a wine was found on documents dating from 1398. The image of the black rooster, which had been associated with the Chianti region since 1384, became connected with the wines of Chianti Classico in 1924 when the newly formed Consortium (now the Consorzio Vino Chianti Classico) chose it as its logo.

CASTELLO DI AMA SAN LORENZO GRAN SELEZIONE CHIANTI CLASSICO 2017 DOCG

Cherries, dried flowers and slate on the nose with some fresh mushrooms. Medium to full body, firm and silky tannins and a juicy, chewy finish. Lots of structure and freshness to this. A Closer Look

The Chianti Classico region is situated in the heart of the Chianti region and includes the towns of Castellina, Gaiole, Greve, Radda, Poggibonsi and San Casciano Val di Pesa. The area is distinguished from the surrounding lands by its altitude, which brings cooler growing conditions that translate into wines of particular elegance and refinement. These wines are also subject to a more stringent production and ageing regimen than Chianti from outside the area. Riserva wines must be aged for a minimum of two years before release, and Gran Selezione wines must be produced from estate-grown grapes and be aged for 30 months (these wines are often single-vineyard bottlings). The Consorzio di Chianti Classico has identified 11 subzones (UGAs) within the Chianti Classico region. These subzones are named for specific villages and producers and are now permitted to include them as a suffix to "Chianti Classico."

IGT Toscana

A Place for Quality

Tuscany and Sangiovese go together like Leonardo and da Vinci, but international grapes such as Cabernet Sauvignon, Cabernet Franc, Merlot and Syrah have been grown here since the 18th century and have a storied track record of their own.

A Closer Look

Winemaking here dates to before the 8th century BCE, but as recently as the 1970s, Tuscany turned the wine world on its head. Premium-wine designations were restricted to indigenous grape varieties, but in the 1960s and into the 1970s many producers were creating exceptional wines from grapes such as Merlot and Cabernet. The regulations placed these at the level of table wines, but wines such as Sassicaia and Tignanello were clearly made of finer stuff. The Indicazione Geografica Tipica (IGT) designation was created in 1994 in response to these so-called Super-tuscans. IGT wines bear an undeniable stamp of modernity, but they precisely embody the interplay of tradition and innovation that has always been at the heart of Tuscan winemaking.

Wine and Italian civilization are virtually synonymous. The Ancient Greek name for much of Italy already acknowledged the importance of viticulture to the peninsula: oenotria, or ‘land of trained vines.’”

The Oxford Companion to Wine

Magnificent Montepulciano.

Vino Nobile di Montepulciano

The Name Game

Historically, the name “Vino Nobile” may have referred to wines made from grapes sourced from the vineyards of local nobility who used their best grapes for their own wines. Another possibility is that the name identified wines of choice for the upper classes. In 1685, the wine was called “the king of all wines” by Francesco Redi in his poem “Bacco in Toscana.”

A medieval town in Val d'Orcia.

A Closer Look

The village of Montepulciano is a breathtaking combination of gorgeous, horizon-busting vistas and centuries-old architecture. It's like a postcard from the 16th century. Vino Nobile di Montepulciano is the oldest and smallest of Tuscany's three great regional expressions of Sangiovese, known locally as Prugnolo Gentile. Granted DOC status in 1966, Montepulciano was elevated to DOCG in 1980 – one of the first four regions in Italy to earn this designation. Stylistically, Vino Nobile falls between Chianti and Brunello, with some Riserva bottlings approaching the richness of Brunello if not the ageability. Vino Nobile wines offer dark cherry, strawberry, plum, and fine tannins and can cellar for 20 years or more.

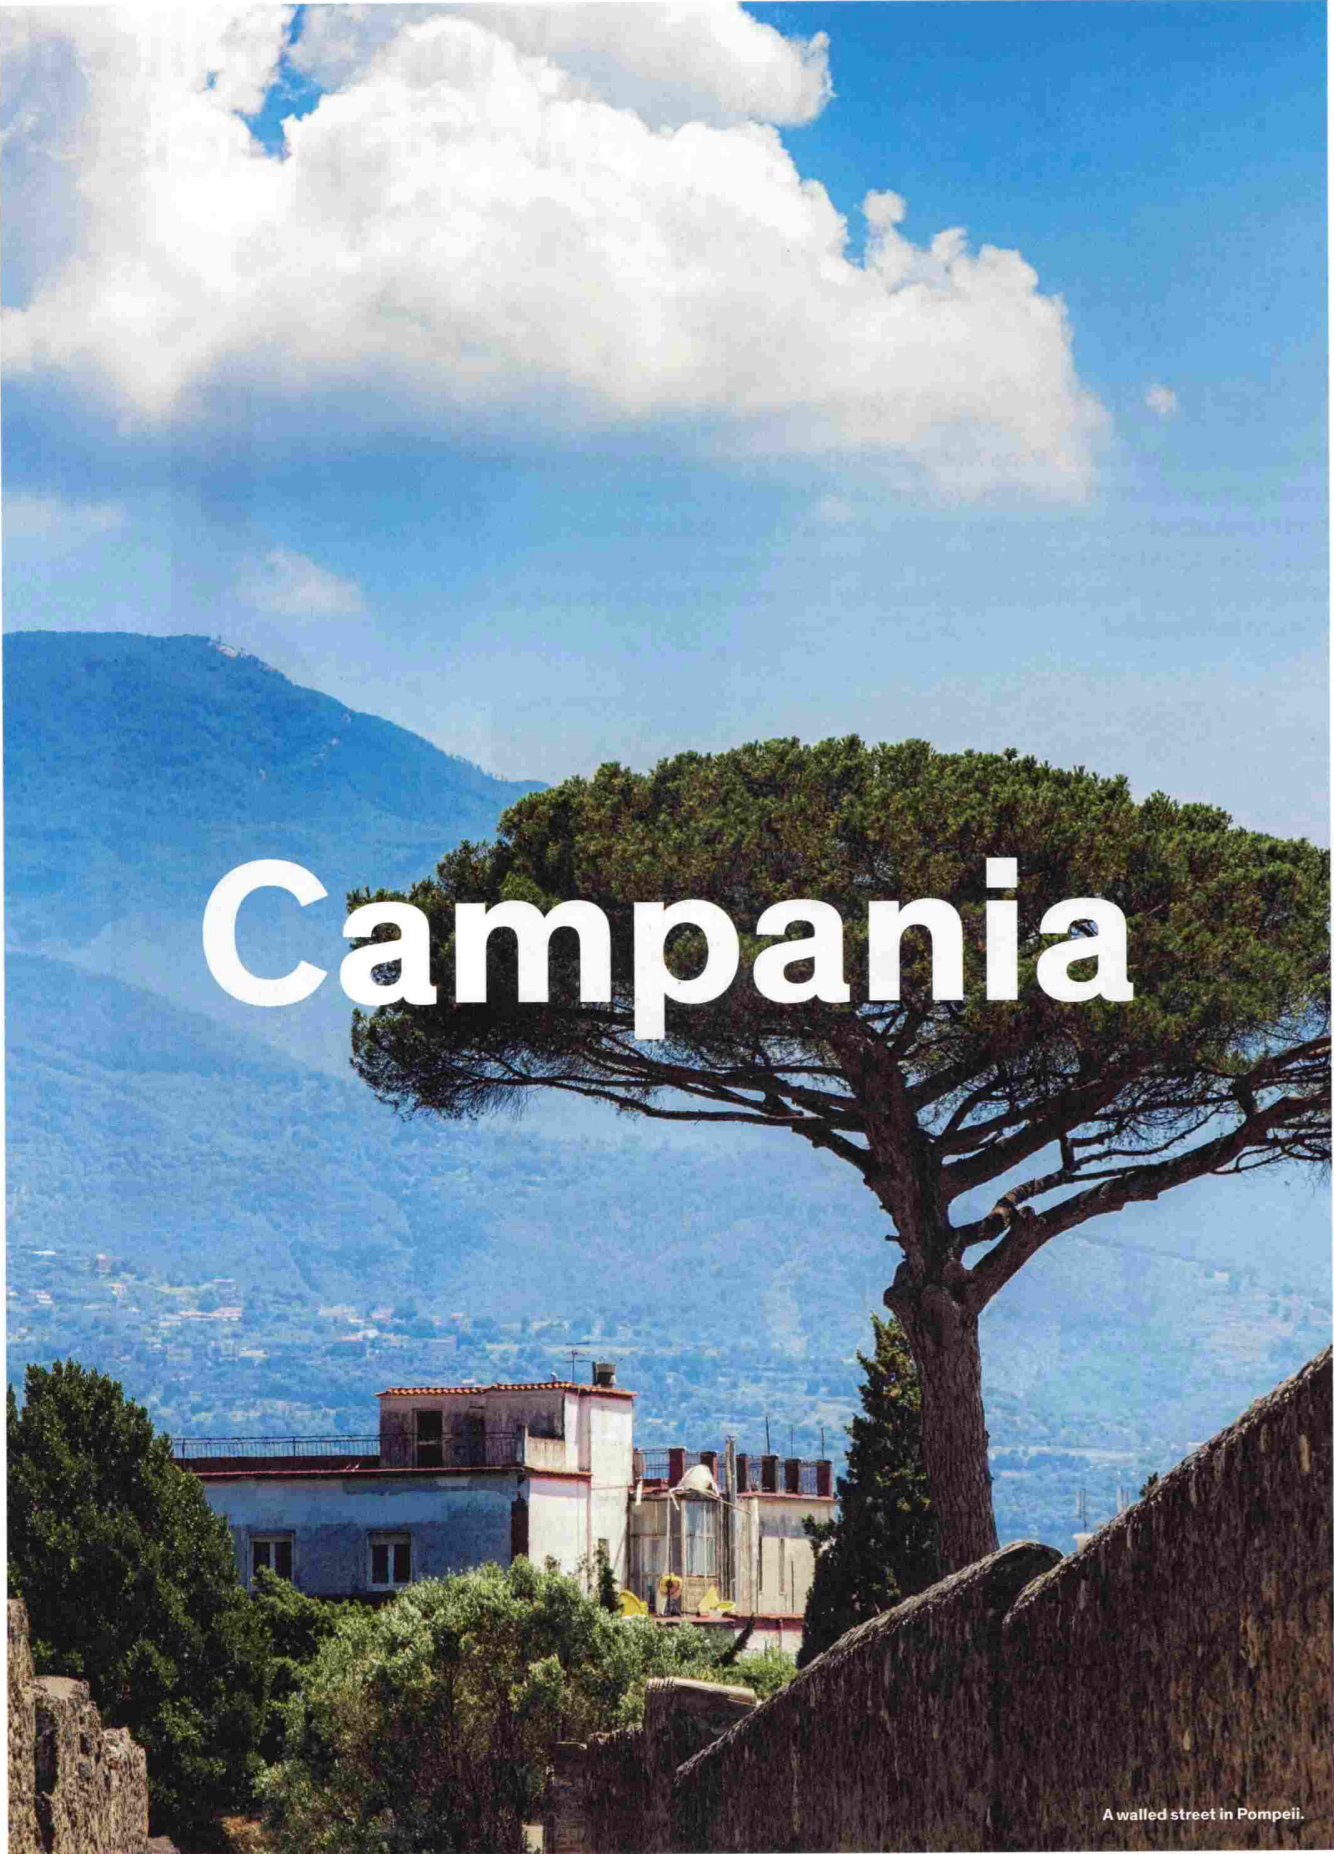

CARPINETO RISERVA VINO NOBILE DI MONTEPULCIANO 2017 DOCG

90% sangiovese, aged two years in 55hl Slavonian oak casks and a small part in French barriques. The nose is quite deep and powerful, ripe within the sangiovese spectrum with the spice of cannaiole alongside ripe-tart red berry fruit, dried herbs, old wood. Tannins are very fine and light, refined, while acids are comfortable and nicely balanced, especially for the challenging (hot) 2017 vintage. Length and depth are excellent. This is drinking very well at the moment though be sure to carafe, but there's no rush either – hold into the early '30s. Solid vintage. 14.5% alc. Tasted February 2022. Campania

A walled street in Pompeii.

Campania

Southern Belle

Mountainous and rugged, Campania has a reputation for fine wine-making that dates back centuries. Falernum, the wine reserved for Roman emperors, was made here and is thought to have been crafted from Falanghina: Campania's signature white grape.

A Closer Look

Campania forms the "shin" of Italy's boot and is home to the infamous Mount Vesuvius. The range and quality of the wines produced in Campania owe much to the diversity of terroirs and mesoclimates found throughout the region. The hilly landscape creates pockets of warmer or cooler growing areas that allow a broad spectrum of powerful red wines and elegant, crisp white wines to be produced. Winemakers in the Sannio region make use of cutting-edge practices and technology but work with ancient grapes such as Aglianico, which is the most important red grape here. In terms of reputation and quality, Aglianico is southern Italy's answer to Sangiovese and Nebbiolo, and wines that carry the DOC Taurasi designation are considered by many to be "the Barolo of the south." Vintages typically releases these Taurasi wines as part of our Classics program or through special online offers. Aglianico offers savoury herb, black fruit, dried fruit, white pepper, smoked meat and leather notes. Robust and drought-resistant, this ancient grape has little to fear from climate change.

Mount Etna looms
over Gangi.

Explosively Good Wines

Sicily's winemaking heritage dates back over 30 centuries. Many of the most distinct, sensational wines are sourced from the mineral-rich volcanic soils that surround Mount Etna, which is the highest and most active volcano in Europe.

A Closer Look

The towering visage of Mount Etna dominates a diverse, ruggedly beautiful landscape that can have an Eden-esque lushness in the summer and a Mordor-like desolation in winter. The wines are equally varied and offer a distinct, appealing take on Sicilian winemaking. International grapes such as Chardonnay and Cabernet Sauvignon are grown on the island, but modern Sicily is best represented by the success of indigenous grapes. The Nerello Mascalese and Nerello Cappuccio in the example in this feature are rarely found outside of the slopes of Mount Etna. Nerello Mascalese has a dark, brooding volcanic character underling bold, forward red fruit notes. It's commonly blended with its cousin Nerello Cappuccio, which brings softness, colour and aromatic lift.

ANTICHI VINAI PETRALAVA ROSSO 2016 DOC Etna

HENRY OF PELHAM ESTATE CABERNET/MERLOT 2019 🍁

Sustainable, VQA Short Hills Bench, Niagara Escarpment

This is a nicely polished, fairly rich and well balanced cab-merlot. Oak is sitting a bit heavy on the nose emitting resin and vanillin, but the raspberry/currant fruit is plentiful as well, along with some typical Niagara greenness. It is medium-full bodied, well balanced with 13% alcohol, firm acid and moderate tannin. As a result it is drinking quite well now, but like many Ontario Bordeaux blends it should also age well. WILDASS MERLOT 2019 🍁
 Sustainable, VQA Niagara-on-the-Lake (Stratus Vineyards)
 Feels like a cool, long drawn out and mellow year for merlot, fruit stretched to the limit by an autumn that allowed for maximum development resulting in a wine of solid purpose and poise. No danger of exceeding any varietal speed limits nor would this be considered in a lush context but there is some quality concentration and presence in here. Blind I might have guessed Austrian blaufränkisch because of the sour-edged berry quality but as a merlot that's a good thing, with the fleshiness up front and the drying tannic presence a mere passenger in the vehicle. Equitable and giving for right and proper results. Drink 2021-2024. Tasted May 2021. Score: 89 (Michael Godel, winealign.com)

This is a selection from his 49 acres in Talairan; it's a deeply earthy wine, with notes of cumin, coriander and Mexican chocolate wrapped into the fruit. Deeply-coloured, and deeply fruity Rhône red here from the village of Plan de Dieu, with plush, velvety, full-bodied palate and generous proportions. ARDAL SELECCIÓN ESPECIAL RESERVA TEMPRANILLO/CABERNET SAUVIGNON 2012

DO Ribera del Duero

Aromas of barrel spice and vanilla lead the charge on this Tinto Fino that also contains 20% Cabernet Sauvignon. A tough, tannin-driven palate deals toasty flavors of black fruits, char and chocolate, which carry over to the finish. Call this an oak bomb, but at the very least the oak is of high quality and well integrated. Drink through 2025. Score: 93 (Michael Schachner, Wine Enthusiast, Nov. 1, 2017)

EL PEDROSAL CRIANZA 2016

DO Ribera del Duero
(Hermanos Pérez Pascuas)
Dark violet. Vibrant red and dark berry and floral aromas are complemented by suggestions of licorice, cola and pipe tobacco. Sweet and lively on the palate, offering juicy black raspberry and cherry flavors sharpened by a snap of zesty minerality. Seamless and approachable, delivering solid closing thrust and smooth tannins that lend shape and gentle grip to the persistent finish. Drinking window: 2022-2028. Score: 92 (Josh Reynolds, vinous.com, Feb. 2021)

Full-bodied & Smooth
540070 (XD) 750 mL $18.95 ✂

PANTOCRATOR 2010

Reserva, Rioja Alta, DOCa Rioja
(Bodegas Tarón)
90% Tempranillo, 10% Mazuelo. This has a lot of age in barrique and bottle, but it still wears it lightly. The palate has notes of ripe baked fruit and red berry fruit compote, polished tannins and developed tertiary notes. Long, savoury and classy. Score: 97 (Decanter World Wine Awards, 2021)

Full-bodied & Smooth
12181 (XD) 750 mL $39.95 ✂

CIMAL TEMPRANILLO 2018

DO La Mancha
(Bodegas Bastida)
A fruity red with cherry and chocolate character and dusty tannins that give the wine form and attraction. Medium body. Fruity finish. Drink now. Score: 90 (jamessuckling.com, Oct. 7, 2021)

Medium-bodied & Fruity
26329 (XD) 750 mL $14.95 ✂

PEIQUE RAMON VALLE 2018

DO Bierzo
100% Mencia. The astonishing slates and granites of Bierzo, and the region's unique position both exposed to yet protected from the Atlantic, makes for some sensationally exciting wines based on the Mencia variety (the same as Dão's Jaen). Our judges loved the brooding aromatic asperities of this jet-black wine, and its plunging wild-plum-and-mountain-herb flavours, improbably allied to a texture of pure velvet. Few wines, too, in our Best in Show selection this year have a longer finish than this eerie, haunting beauty. Best in Show. Score: 97 (Decanter World Wine Awards, 2020)

Medium-bodied & Fruity
236943 (XD) 750 mL $21.95 ✂

MARQUÉS DE CÁCERES EXCELLENS CUVÉE ESPECIAL COLECCIÓN PRIVADA CRIANZA 2017

Vegan, DOCa Rioja
(Translated from the Spanish) Crianza red. 100% Tempranillo. 14 months in barrels. High intensity garnet cherry. Aromatic, memories of cassis, blueberries, blackberries, cedar, cacao, graphite, Indian ink, mycological notes, cinnamon, cedar, incense, clove, etc. Flavourful, lively, broad, structured, fleshy and persistent in the retronasal passages, with notes of currants, sandalwood, coffee and toast. Drink or cellar. Score: 94 (Guía de Vinos Gourmets, 2021)

Full-bodied & Firm
10684 (XD) 750 mL $17.95 ✂

RIO MADRE GRACIANO 2020

DOCa Rioja
(Bodegas y Viñedos Ilurce)
Blackberries, blueberries and black cherries with some dried-fruit undertones. Full-bodied with slightly chewy tannins and a fresh finish. Better in a year or two. Score: 91 (jamessuckling.com, Oct. 14, 2021)

Full-bodied & Firm
